The FW de Klerk Foundation announces the departure of Ms Phephelaphi Dube from her position as Director of the Centre for Constitutional Rights (CFCR), as from December 2018. Ms Dube is leaving to pursue an academic career. The Foundation is grateful for the excellent work that Ms Dube has done for the Centre and the Foundation in the last five years. We would like to wish Ms Dube every success with her future career and are sure that she will make a very positive contribution in her new role. The Foundation will make an announcement in 2019 about the advertisement for a new Director to continue the tradition that Phephelaphi and her predecessors have established.
